Our English language classes take place at a campus, located on the south side of the city, in Camden Street. It is just a few minutes' walk from St. Stephen's Green, a historic park and garden, and just a 5-minute walk from Grafton Street, Dublin's most popular shopping locale. The Luas (tram) stop is also a few minutes' walk away, not to mention Pearse Street and Tara Street (train) stations being a mere 20 minutes further on foot. Additionally, it is well served by local buses which makes it handy for students. Fortunately, the school is very close to several good restaurants, cafes, pubs and clubs, in addition to being only a 10-minute walk from Temple Bar, Dublin's famous cobblestoned cultural district, which has lively street markets, alternative artists, pubs, restaurants and boutiques around every corner.

About Waterford

Waterford, Ireland's oldest city, was founded in 914 AD by Norwegian Vikings. Initially a Viking base, it became a key site in Viking and Anglo-Norman history. Originally named Vadrarfjofdr, meaning either 'haven from the windswept sea' or 'fjord of the rams,' it was captured by the Anglo Normans in 1170, marking a significant historical shift. Once a royal city under Henry II, modern Waterford combines its rich heritage with a vibrant urban life, boasting lively shopping areas, cafes, award-winning restaurants, and a diverse mix of pubs.

So what exactly is Waterford's Viking Triangle?

The Waterford Viking Triangle is the 'old town' of Waterford City. It's a compact area that is just a short walk from the city's shopping area. It's a quirky place, with interesting nooks and crannies for you to explore. This is where you can enjoy some of the key attractions of Ireland's Ancient East, including the House of Waterford Crystal, the award winning Medieval Museum, Bishop's Palace and Reginald's Tower.

The Waterford Viking Triangle has lots of nice things to do and see. There are craft studios, cafes and lovely places to eat. Most of all though, there is a great sense of history. Waterford city's motto is 'Urbs Intacta Manet', which means 'The Untaken City', and in the Waterford Viking Triangle, you will walk through over 1,000 years of history. You can almost hear the Viking voices or picture the French Huguenot bakers. You can imagine the tall ships on the quay importing their wines from France and Spain. It is a unforgettable experience.

Waterford's fascinating history is there for the taking!

Waterford

Our Tycor Business Park Campus is located in a quiet residential part of Waterford, yet still located at the heart of the city. There is a shopping centre, 'Lisdugan Shopping Centre', 10 minutes away from the campus where students can find a supermarket and some cafes. Similarly, only 15 minutes walk south of the school is the city centre where students can spend time in the local bookshop, 'The Book Centre', which was once an old theatre, now converted into a bookstore and cafe. There are exciting local shops, bars and restaurants too! Most students opt to walk and cycle to the school as it is in such a central location. However, it is serviced by a number of local buses which stop 50m from the school as well.
