

Private Day School

School Profile

Bishop Seabury Academy is a college preparatory school in Kansas. The school is for students who are serious about education and want to explore their potential, whether they are in the classroom, on the field, or on stage. Inspired and committed teachers bring to their classes a real passion for teaching, and each student is treated as an individual, complicated human being. The core curriculum stresses and emphasized critical thinking in all areas. Classes are rich with discussion and students are required to be active participants in their education and in their lives. Every student participates in both athletics and the arts. In this way, the students develop into confident, engaged, and exuberant people who can adapt to diverse learning environments and challenges.
