School Profile

Founded in 1895, The Gilbert School, an independent middle-senior high school, has a unique and compelling history, a dedicated faculty and staff and a supportive community. The school has a comprehensive athletic program, award-winning band and choral music programs, a state-of-the-art library-media center, 700-seat auditorium and a TV studio. For advanced students, Gilbert School offers AP courses as well as an opportunity to earn college credits from the University of Connecticut and Northwestern Connecticut Community College. Set in the picturesque Litchfield Hills of northwestern Connecticut, The Gilbert School is equidistant to Boston and New York City. Many prestigious institutions of higher learning are easily accessible to the campus.
