

Private Day School

School Profile

The Charles Finney School is a coed, private day school located in Rochester, in the north of New York State. Established in 1992, Finney continues to grow and mature as a Christian institution, establishing a tradition of excellence in academics and leading the Rochester school community in a number of areas; including the Scholastic Art Awards, SAT scores, and college admissions rates. The school's athletic program has grown to include five boys' teams and five girls' teams at the JV and Varsity levels. Arts and student activities have expanded to include music, visual arts, drama, literary magazine, mock trial, while Finney is the first private school to participate in the U.S. FIRST Robotics competition. Finney enjoys success in these programs, with students having been regional and state award winners.
