

Private Boarding School

School Profile

Academy at the Lakes is an independent, nonsectarian, coeducational, college preparatory day and boarding school. It has a superb college-counseling program to prepare students for the next level of education, and its students, on average, are accepted by their first choice colleges. Its college-counseling program aims to find each student the very best match: academically, socially and financially. Its academic program offers students a wide range of courses so that each is presented with appropriate challenges. To compliment its strong academic program, this school offers students an excellent fine-arts program and exceptional sports teams, thereby offering something for every student.

Dormitories and Student Residences Academy houses are located in local, gated communities with luxury accommodations including tennis courts and swimming pools; in close proximity to the school. The houses are traditional single-family homes featuring commons areas such as the living room and kitchen, bedrooms (about 2 kids/room), and spacious bathrooms. Some of the real perks to life in an Academy dorm is that meals are all home cooked and served in the house, not in a cafeteria, and each house has its own van and housemaster.
